

Restaurants: New and Reopened

Manjay Photo: Fuji Film Girl

New year, new restaurants opening and old favorites reopening in South Florida:

Botánico Gin & Cookhouse, Coconut Grove

WHAT: South Florida's first gin-centric restaurant, showcasing an extensive gin-focused cocktail menu with 15 gin-and-tonic variations, plus dishes like arepas topped with duck confit, short rib and pulled pork; Ecuadorean ceviche; and a French burger served on a croissant bun.

WHERE: In the revamped CocoWalk, 3015 Grand Avenue

WHEN: Now open

FIND OUT MORE: Botánico Gin and Cookhouse

Salt & Straw, Coconut Grove

WHAT: This small-batch, family-owned ice cream company opens its second Miami location at CocoWalk. Miami Classic flavors include Panther Coffee Chocolate Tres Leches, The Salty Donut Guava + Cheese, Wynwood Brewing Mango Habanero and Exquisito Chocolates Hazelnut Cookies & Cream.

WHERE: CocoWalk, 3015 Grand Ave. A second Salt & Straw is located in Wynwood at 246 NW 25th St.

WHEN: Now open

MORE INFO: Salt & Straw

Planta Queen at CocoWalk

WHAT: Asian-focused plant-based cuisine that promotes environmental sustainability under chef David Lee, featuring dishes like General Lee's Cauliflower, Taro Tater Tots and Coconut Ceviche.

WHERE: Second floor of the revamped CocoWalk, 3015 Grand Ave., Coconut Grove

FIND OUT MORE: Planta Queen

Article Link: <https://ediblesouthflorida.ediblecommunities.com/eat/restaurants-new-and-reopened>