

Things to do in Coconut Grove

BY SARAH HARRIS

Florida is the southeasternmost US state, known for its perennial sunshine and clear blue skies. The Grove is a favorite for locals and visitors alike, well-recognized for its historical appeal and interesting and unique points of exploration. We recommend touring on foot since the area is known for its lush tropical greenery and wonderful architecture. With a laid-back village vibe, the area is easy to navigate and has a lot to offer for all types of travellers. Whether you're looking to delve into the heritage of the city, indulge in some great food, or enjoy a fun shopping experience, you're sure to love this charming historic district. Still not sure where to begin? Don't worry, we've done a lot of the heavy lifting for you! If you're planning to explore this free-spirited and eclectic district of Miami, have a read through our list of some of the best things to see and do in the area. Whatever you choose to do here, we're sure you'll have a blast!

Relax!

If strolling down aisles of artisan cheeses, raw, honey and speciality pantry products just like your jam, you won't want to skip out on the next item on our list. Running all throughout the day each and every Saturday, the Organic Farmers' Market is the perfect place to be for those who consider food their religion. Whilst this place is well-known for its extensive array of fresh produce, its main draw has got to be its fantastic food vendors, serving up some of the best that the city has to offer. Enjoy a raw vegan sushi roll as you browse. Cool off from the Miami heat with some speciality ice cream. And then wash it all down with a nice cold one. The perfect stop for all foodies, this stop has everything we could ever ask for, and more.

Coconut Grove has long been drawing visitors in with its unique history and undeniable natural beauty. The streets are flanked by chic stores and sidewalk cafes, which make for perfect scenic strolls. Still, if you're looking to get some serious shopping done, we recommend heading over to Cocowalk Mall. Reflecting the neighborhood's increasingly upscale vibe, the mall has a great mix of independent boutiques and popular favorites to offer. This place is also a great entertainment destination, with a fantastic movie theater to be enjoyed. For those who aren't looking to shop, you can grab a bite to eat and take in the beautiful views of Biscayne Bay. Whether you're a total shopaholic or a casual browser, this place provides a sophisticated experience like no other.

Article Link: <https://gocity.com/miami/en-us/blog/things-do-coconut-grove-miami>