As temperatures drop and the year comes to a close, there is no better way to reflect and express gratitude than with loved ones over a delicious feast. Here are some South Florida restaurants offering seasonal favorites this Thanksgiving season.

The Key Club

Blending a classic American bar and grill with timeless continental cuisine, The Key Club is rolling out an extravagant menu this Thanksgiving. Serving delicate fresh-catch fish, mouthwatering steaks and a variety of signature sushi rolls, this Miami gem is the ideal destination for those looking for an intimate and upscale dining experience. Inspired by the Grove's long-standing sense of community, The Key Club offers a welcoming and lively atmosphere both inside and outside, making it the perfect place to gather friends and family this season. 3015 Grand Ave., Coconut Grove / Website
