

Everything Fun You Can Do in Miami This Weekend

Get into the holiday spirit with Santa, Jingle Ball, the Muppets, and more.

Not in the holiday spirit yet? Well, too bad, because even though we live in about the most un-wintery place imaginable, this weekend Christmas is pretty much inescapable. That's because our best events all have a yule tide bent, whether it's the annual Jingle Ball with the Backstreet Boys, or Santa Claus holding court at Fairchild Tropical Garden. All that and floating Muppets highlight the best stuff going on in South Florida this weekend.

Bask in Beyonce by candlelight

Friday, December 16

CocoWalk

Coconut Grove's candlelight concerts are back, this time honoring Queen B herself as a select group of professional musicians play their interpretations of Beyonce's greatest hits. The show goes down under the 60-foot Kapok tree, as the stage is lit by hundreds of candles starting at 7 pm.

Cost: Free